1. What is the relative humidity required to support pure water droplets of radius 8µm at a temperature of 0°C? Is a relative humidity of this magnitude ever achieved in the atmosphere?

   Answer: 100.01%; yes